

Dr. Nidhi Saroj is an academician and currently serving as Assistant Professor of Law at IILM University, Gurugram. She has over six years of teaching experience. Her research interests lie in Criminal Law, Juvenile Justice, Family Law, Consumer Law, and Gender & Law. Dr. Saroj is deeply committed to socio-legal research, with a focus on parental incarceration, children of incarcerated parents, and evolving consumer rights. She has published in peer-reviewed journals and presented papers at national and international seminars.

Educational Qualification

- Ph.D., Law, Gujarat National Law University, Gandhinagar (2020–2025)
- LL.M., Intellectual Property Law, NALSAR University of Law, Hyderabad (2016–2017)
- B.A., LL.B. (Hons.), Amity University, Noida (2011–2016)
 - Awards: Medal for Academic Excellence in Constitutional Law and Most Amicable Personality
- UGC-NET Qualified, 2017

Research and Scholarly Work

- “Human rights of children born in judicial custody to incarcerated mothers: a socio-legal review of issues faced by these children in social adaptability and reintegration”, International Journal of Human Rights and Constitutional Studies, 2025.
- “Intergenerational effect of parental incarceration in India: a review from human rights perspective”, International Journal of Human Rights and Constitutional Studies, 2025.
- “Is right to repair one’s own good a consumer right? An analysis of the changing dimensions of consumer rights in India”, International Journal on Consumer Law and Practice, 2023.
- Case Comment: RD Upadhyay vs State of AP, CMRU JCLA, 2022.
- “A Socio-Legal Study on the Condition of Women Prisoners and Their Children in India”, Contemporary Law Review, 2022.